

NO FLASH

Everytime that I go to the Hair Salon to get my haircut, there's always an environmental issue afterward because I always find tons of litter laying around outside the salon. Since nobody else takes time to clean it all up, I clean up all the litter and dispose of the trash and recycling properly. And if there's any items laying around that can't be recycled but can be reused, I turn it into a piece of recycled art instead of throwing it in the trash so that it can be reused again instead of being put to waste. It's a lot of work, but I don't stop until the job is done properly. Because I don't want all the litter laying around outside the Hair Salon causing other problems for the Planet.
